December holiday recess

As a reminder, the following work schedule will be in effect for December:

Saturday, Dec. 10 through Monday, Jan. 2, 1984: Holiday for all academic year employees.

Monday, Dec. 12 through Friday, Dec. 23: Normal university business hours—7:30 am to 5 pm, Monday through Friday.

Saturday, Dec. 24 through Monday, Jan. 2, 1984: Christmas/New Year's recess for 10- and 12-month employees. Campus will be closed for this 10-day period except for emergency services or essential work which has been approved in advance by the appropriate dean/division head.

An absence request MUST be submitted to Payroll by every 10- and 12-month employee. Dec. 26 (Christmas) and Dec. 29 (Columbus Day) should be marked "H" for holiday. Accrued CTO (T), vacation (V), personal holiday (PH), holiday credit (HC) or leave without pay (L) may be used for Dec. 27, 28 and 30.

Below is a suggested use of holiday credit for the week of Dec. 26-30:

- Dec. 26 — Christmas observed (H)
- Dec. 27 — Washington's Birthday (HC)
- Dec. 28 — California Admission's Day (HC)
- Dec. 29 — Columbus Day (H)
- Dec. 30 — Veteran's Day (HC)

Efforts should be made to arrange work schedules when necessary to provide accrual of compensatory time off so that employees will remain in paid status for the entire month of December.

Questions regarding hours of work or the campus calendar for the remainder of 1983 should be directed to the Personnel Office, ext. 2236.

KCPR to resume broadcast of Texaco-Metropolitan Opera

Opera lovers take note: The Texaco-Metropolitan Opera radio broadcast series will mark its 44th season on Saturday with a presentation of Francis Poulenc's "Dialogues of the Carmelites."

The opera will be carried by public radio station KCPR-FM (91.3), which broadcasts from the Cal Poly campus. The performance will begin at 10 am.

Peter Allen is the host for the weekly Metropolitan broadcasts, introducing each work and narrating the action for the radio listeners. The programs also feature such traditional intermission segments as "Opera News on the Air," "Opera Quiz," and "Singers' Roundtable."

Texaco's sponsorship of the broadcasts is the longest continuous underwriting of the same program by the same sponsor in the history of American radio.

Among the Met's weekly programs over the next five months will be "Rise and Fall of the City of Mahagonny" (Weill/Brecht) on Jan. 21, "Rinaldo" (Handel) on Feb. 11, "Les Troyens" (Berlioz) on Feb. 18, and "Arabella" (Strauss) on March 17.

The 1983-84 season of programs from the Metropolitan Opera will be the 13th for KCPR-FM, which is operated by students of the Journalism Department.

Poly plant sale

The Poly Plant Shop will be open Monday through Friday, 1-5 pm, and Saturday, 9 am - 5 pm, until Dec. 16. Color your Christmas with a brilliant Poinsettia—or select a beautiful Gloxinia, African violet or Ivy ball.

You also can purchase dried flowers for making Christmas wreaths and ornaments.

Shop early while supplies last.

The Poly Plant Shop is located at the OH Unit. For more information, call ext. 1106.

Polo Club adviser needed

The Cal Poly Polo Club is in urgent need of an adviser. This enthusiastic group of equestrians has many goals, though reaching them is almost impossible without the help of a faculty or staff adviser. The primary responsibilities would be to represent the club at meetings and offer advice to the student members.

It is not necessary that the adviser be knowledgeable about the sport of polo, though the opportunity will be available to learn the game and participate in it as well.

For more information about the Polo Club's activities contact Kimberlee Fritz at 546-9687.
